Stuttgart AR Postmaster for a time.

From the Decatur (IL) Weekly Republican 20 Dec 1894

Capt. Albert H. Soekland, of DeWitt, Arkansas, has been in the city visiting his old comrade, Capt. J. M. Blythe, who was in command of Company A, 63rd Indiana regiment, during the war. Capt. Soekland was in the same company. He is now Senior Vice-Commander, Arkansas Department, Grand Army of the Republic, and is a candidate for commander. He was one of 200 soldiers at the battle of Resacca who were laid out to die, and he was one of four of the 200 to recover.
