Heading to the National Encampment in Cleveland by way of Key West.

Ok, it isn't the most indirect route, but it is pretty close. Saw a repurposed Civil War fort that now is more famous for the fact that it is the home of Robert the haunted doll. Not much on display there that is Civil War related, but they did have a GAR medal, explained what the GAR was, and had Bob Wolz's book for sale.

The next Civil War site we will probably stop at is Amelia Island. They have a neat fort with lots of period cannons there. After that we invade Georgia and march to Savannah, actually probably Tybee Island. The nearby Fort Pulaski is also something to see, but we will probably skip it as we went there last time. Then on to Beaumont, SC, to see a bunch of antebellum houses that Sherman apparently missed. He actually missed a lot of them on his marches. We'll probably see a few more sites through the south, but no main plans before we get to Cleveland. Might see a couple Revolutionary War sites along the way, especially once we hit Virginia.

Traveling the country isn't much fun unless you mix in history tours as well. That point was emphasized while we were on Duval St. in Key West. Just how many T-Shirt shops does a town need? How many bars (in Key West the answer is over 200)? Seeing Hemmingway's house, seeing Robert, and touring the distillery were more fun than getting drunk and sunburn. Tour a historic site this summer!

"Leftover junk"

After the Civil War, the federal government had large quantities of surplus military goods and held large auctions to dispose of this surplus. Business's like Bannermann's, purchased these goods at greatly discounted prices and had warehouses full of everything from rifles and swords to cannon, uniforms and saddles. Among the items stored in their warehouses were thousands of bayonets. The Bannermann company needed innovative ways to disposed of this "leftover junk".

This matched pair of candelabra is from the Ransom G.A.R. post located in St. Louis, Missouri. The candelabra is made from three Austrian bayonets. The blades have been curved outward and are held together with a brass throat. They measure 15 inches tall. Both are made of socket bayonets, which were bought as military surplus, then fashioned into these relics. Bannermann sold many items like this to G.A.R. posts. Many veterans also purchased these relics for display above fireplaces or as a decoration on their dining room table.

Since, this pair of candelabra have no maker's mark, it is not known whether Bannermann or one of his competitors fashioned this piece.

This candelabra is one of a matched set and measures 14 inches tall. The set was made of surplus Civil War bayonets. The curved bayonets are screwed to a center section which is made of iron. This makes these candelabra quite heavy. At the top is a cup, designed to hold a candle. Many times these were designed with a special brass insert which fit in the bayonet socket. They could then hold a candle. Many of these inserts have been lost over the years. The candelabra, being iron, had a lot of rust. They had to be taken apart and carefully cleaned then restored to their original condition. This pair of candelabra now sit on my fireplace.

To the right is a candelabra or table decoration made from bayonets which would fit the 45-70 post Civil War Springfield. This candelabra would probably date to the turn of the century. The candelabra is held together with a brass throat much like the ones on the previous page, and were probably manufactured by the same company. Special brass candle holders were fit to the bayonet tips. A minie ball design, cups the tip of the bayonet. Below the candle, is a leaf design. This candelabra was found at an estate sale in St. Louis, Missouri, and was used by a veteran in his home.

The candelabra on the left is said to have come from a Grand Army post in Pennsylvania. It is made of socket bayonets and the tips have been turned inward thus, forming the base. They are carefully held together by small screws. Traces of candle wax is still visible. The bayonets were originally made for the .58 Springfield musket.

Author of our continuing series:
PCC Doug Roussin
of
Gen. Thomas Fletcher Camp 47

The sconce above is made from three bayonets. These have been carefully bent and are attached to a block with brass bolts. At the top is a small piece of brass with a hole for attachment to the wall. The bayonets are painted gold.

The sconce on the right has a bayonet which fit on a .58 cal, Springfield musket and probably saw action during the Civil War. It is now a wall decoration. The bayonet goes through a brass ball. The base is attached to a black board and can, therefore, be applied to the wall. This sconce is one of a matched set and is hanging on the author's den wall on either side of the door.

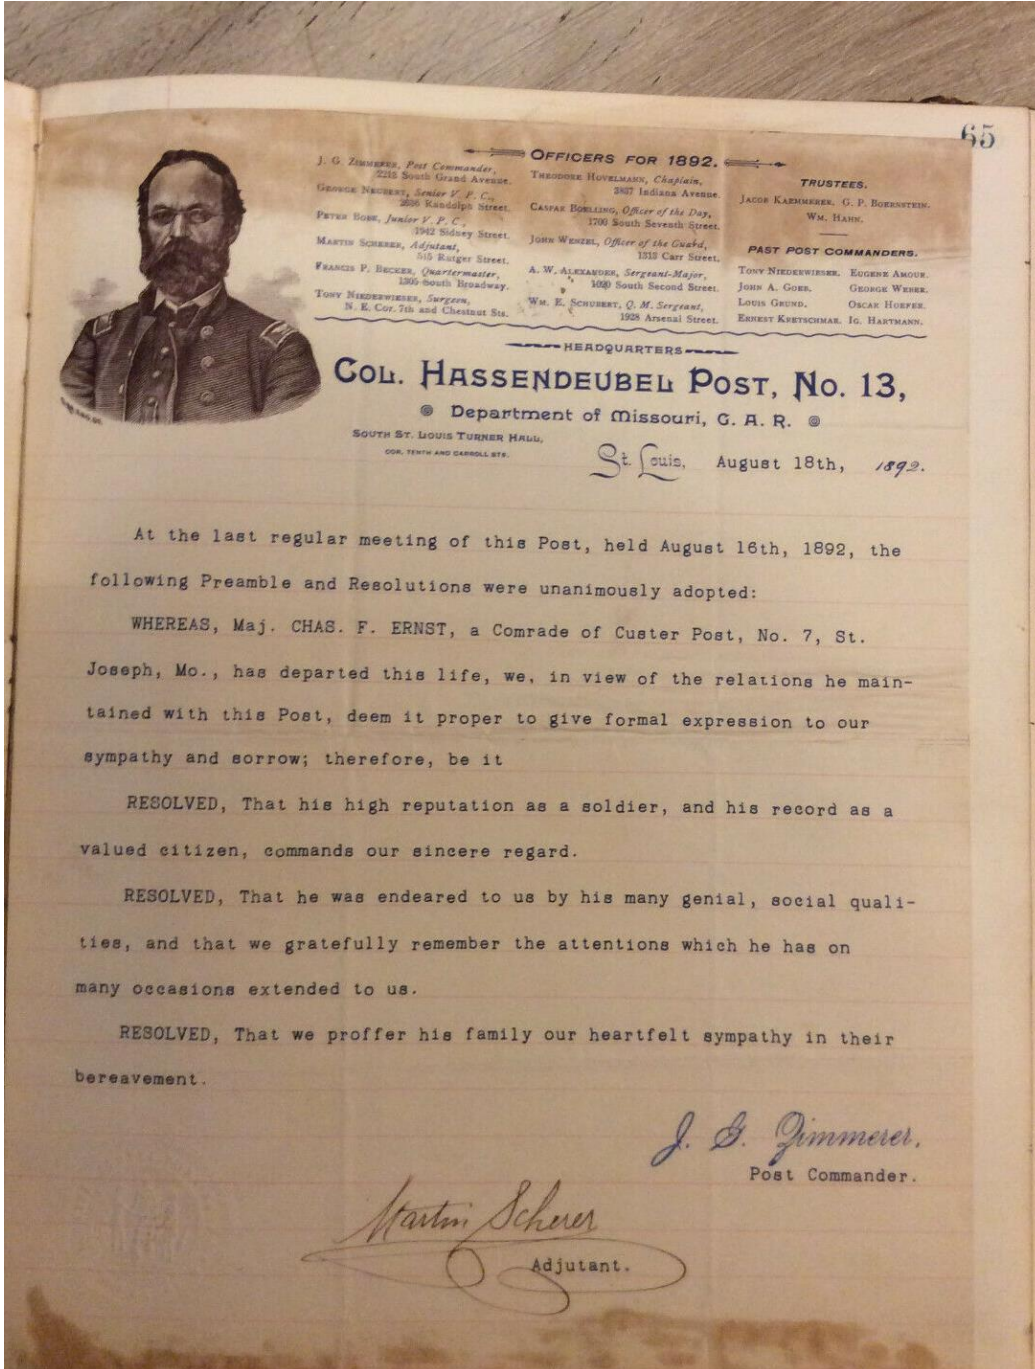

This bayonet display focused on veterans from another war, World War 1. The brass top has the standard insignia from the Civil War. This includes an eagle plate, U. S. buckle and artillery , infantry and cavalry hat pins. But, the bayonets which hold the stand together are French in origin. This would date the stand to post World War 1.

Department Purchases St. Joseph MO GAR Post Records

Brother James Dixon of Tiger Camp found one of the Minute books of the General Custer Post in St Joseph, MO for sale on E-Bay and Historic Records Officer Walt Busch brought this information before the last Department Encampment to try to purchase the item. The book was described as:

“Original General Custer Headquarters of G.A.R. 1892 Book of Meeting minutes . This wonderful historical book contains 201 pages of handwritten notes taken at the G.A.R. meetings in St. Joseph, MO from the headquarters of the Custer Post No. 7. All pages are handwritten by Thomas R. Dumont, Adjutant, at that time. There are also some pages of congratulatory order from Gen. Custer dated 1864, and Custer's Farewell Order from April 9, 1865. The binding on this book is coming loose, as shown in photos. It measures 11 1/2" x 14".

The department approved the purchase on a motion that after we photograph it for our records, we gift it to the Missouri Historical Society in Columbia.

We were able to purchase it for just under the amount authorized by the encampment for us to bid.

The Custer post was a very active post and has a GAR monument in a local cemetery. The camp was also responsible for incorporating to buy and develop a “Grand Army of the Republic Park” in St. Joseph.

Several years ago, Walt found the incorporation papers for this on the Secretary of State website and tried to find out more about the park. Did they accomplish their goal? Is the park renamed as something else now? The results of the incorporation are still a mystery.

Photos are sample pages from the records.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Custer Post Does Honor to Departed Comrades.

A very interesting and impressive memorial service was held by Custer Post last Thursday evening in commemoration of the following deceased comrades: Jonathan Bridges, Baldus Weitner, Jacob Brueninger, Albert Hahn, Orson Brokaw and James C. Cozine. Relatives and friends of the deceased comrades were present by special invitation. Members of Grand Army posts, Veteran Legion, Sons of Veterans, and ladies of the Women's Relief Corps were also present in large numbers. The post room was tastefully decorated. The altar was covered with black and white crepe, and surmounted with a beautiful floral design bearing the single inscription, "Our Dead." Six vacant chairs, covered with the national colors and suitably draped, were placed between the commander's chair and the altar. The exercises began with music—a beautiful and appropriate selection faultlessly rendered by a choir of young ladies and gentlemen, under the direction of Prof. Phil W. Kost. The post commander then called upon the adjutant to read the record of each of the deceased comrades in the cause of our country and in the Grand Army of the Republic. The reading of each record was followed by three rolls on a muffled drum. The exercises were then continued with a beautiful responsive service by the post chaplain and comrades. Rev. W. H. Welton read a selection from the nineteenth psalm and offered a prayer, closing with the Lord's Prayer in concert. Brief and appropriate addresses were then made by the following comrades: John Michel, Charles Michaelis, John Harnois, Lucian E. Carter, F. M. Posegate, James Limbird, B. F. Buzard, W. H. Welton and D. C. Anderson. The occasion was a solemn and impressive one. The flags and crepe, the vacant chairs, the subdued and eloquent words of the speakers, carried the older men and women in the audience back in memory to the anxious days and sleepless nights of the war—to the days of ambulances and stretchers and hospitals—to the days of pale faces and bloody garments and burial squads and new made graves. After the singing of a final selection by the choir the meeting was closed with a short responsive service by the officers of the post. The service was one of the most beautiful and appropriate ever held by the Grand Army in this city; the responsive readings and scripture selections were appropriate and beautiful; one of the very best features of the occasion was the excellent music, for which the members of the post feel under grateful obligation to Prof. Kost and the following singers: Soprano, Miss Bertha Vollman and Miss Olivia Schenecker; alto, Miss Clara Bauman; tenor, Mr. George Schroer; bass, Mr. William Zimmerman.

Cemetery at 2324 Ashland Ave in St. Joseph MO has this monument erected by the Custer Post and there are about 50 soldiers buried around it. Picture of Custer Post Ribbon found on internet.

Colonel Thomas Clement Fletcher - 1863

The Hero from Jefferson County, Missouri: Thomas Clement Fletcher

by Oliver R. Pechmann

With the outbreak of the Civil War, Fletcher was appointed assistant provost marshal general at St. Louis by Gen. Nathaniel Lyon and continued in that post for the next year. During the summer of 1862 he recruited the Thirty-first Missouri Volunteers as part of a larger recruitment effort headed by his friend Frank Blair. Most of those volunteering for the Thirty-first were from Jefferson County and included his brothers, John William and Charles Carroll. Thomas became their colonel, receiving his commission in October 1862.

Fletcher and his 31st Missouri Volunteer Regiment would soon see action with Francis Blair's brigade at Chickasaw Bayou, north of Vicksburg, in December 1862.

The Battle of Chickasaw Bayou, also called the Battle of Walnut Hills, fought December 26-29, 1862, was the opening engagement of Vicksburg Campaign during the American Civil War. Confederate forces under Lt. Gen. John C. Pemberton repulsed an advance by Union Maj. Gen. William T. Sherman that was intended to lead to the capture of Vicksburg, Mississippi.

On December 26, three Union divisions under Sherman disembarked at John's Plantation on the Yazoo River to approach the Vicksburg defenses from the northeast while a fourth landed farther upstream on December 27. On December 27, the Federals pushed their lines forward through the swamps toward the Walnut Hills, which were strongly defended. On December 28, several futile attempts were made to get around these defenses. On December 29, Sherman ordered a frontal assault. At noon, Union troops advanced with a cheer. Blair's brigade, including Fletcher's 31st Missouri, moved on the left, DeCourcy's in the center, followed by Brig. Gen. John M. Thayer's brigade on the right; Thayer's brigade lost its way and only one regiment, the 4th Iowa Infantry, was engaged. The Federals crossed the water barriers and advanced on the weight of their sheer numbers, but met stiff resistance and were repulsed with heavy casualties when they came against the main Confederate line.

A field correspondent from the Missouri Democrat reported: "The enemy commenced retreating up the hill, General Blair's brigade pursuing them, when all of a sudden the enemy, from a masked battery, opened a most deadly and destructive fire upon them with grape and canister. In a few minutes the ground was covered with the dead and dying. This ended the assault on the hill at this point, and the survivors of General Blair's brigade fell back across the bayou on a log bridge."

Fletcher's "The Yankee Prison ov'r the Pearl" redrawn for Harper's Weekly

Confederate General S. D. Lee ordered his men to make a counterattack, during which they captured 332 Federals and four battle flags. Colonel Fletcher was wounded and captured. He spent the next five months in Libby Prison in Richmond. Exchanged in May 1863 he rejoined his regiment in time to be present at the surrender of Vicksburg on July 4.

He later participated with his regiment in the struggle for Lookout Mountain at the battle of Chattanooga in December and commanded a brigade in the Atlanta campaign the following spring. While engaged in the latter, he contracted a severe cold, which settled in his back, making it impossible for him to mount his horse. He would later say that his health problems were caused by spending part of the winter on a covered bridge near Jackson, Mississippi, over the Pearl River, which had been converted into a prison. On the recommendation of the regimental surgeon, he returned home to recuperate. During his convalescence he painted a pen and watercolor rendering of that very same covered bridge. It is on display at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

Buried in Arkansas: Three Civil War Medal of Honor Profiles

Compiled by Randal A. Burd, Jr., PDC

In addition to the Union soldiers and sailors of the Civil War who received the Medal of Honor and are buried in Missouri, the Department of Missouri is currently aware of three such Medal of Honor recipients who are buried in the State of Arkansas. Acting Master's Mate William J. Franks of the U.S.S. Marmora, Armorer George Taylor of the U.S.S. Lackawanna, and Private John Kennedy of Company M, 2nd U.S. Artillery were each awarded the Medal of Honor for their conspicuous service during the Civil War and subsequently buried within the geographical boundaries of this department. These are their stories.

William J. Franks was born in Pittsboro, Chatham County, North Carolina, in 1830. He entered the Union Navy on September 16, 1863, in Duvall's Bluff, Arkansas. Arriving in Yazoo City, Mississippi, on March 5, 1864, Franks disembarked from the U.S.S. Marmora with other members of the crew "in the midst of a heated battle and, bravely standing by his gun despite enemy rifle fire which cut the gun carriage and rammer, contributed to the turning back of the enemy during the fierce engagement." Franks, who held the rank of Seaman at the time, received the Medal of Honor along with two of his crewmates and was promoted to Acting Master's Mate for his actions during this battle.

After leaving the Navy in 1865, Franks settled in Arkansas and married Mary Francis, with whom he had five children. He died in April 1880 and is buried in Maple Springs Cemetery, Batesville, Arkansas. The U.S.S. Franks (DD-554), a Fletcher-class destroyer, was named in his honor and launched on December 7, 1942.

George Taylor was born in Watertown, Jefferson County, New York, on November 15, 1830. His Medal of Honor citation states the he was "on board the U.S.S. Lackawanna during successful attacks against Fort Morgan, rebel gunboats and the ram Tennessee in Mobile Bay, on 5 August 1864. When an enemy shell exploded in the shell room, Taylor although wounded went into the room and, with his hand, extinguished the fire from the explosion. He then carried out his duties during the remainder of the prolonged action which resulted in the capture of the prize rebel ram Tennessee and in the damaging and destruction of Fort Morgan." His award was issued through General Order 45 on December 31, 1864. His Medal of Honor grave marker states his name as George Taylor F. Johnson; however, his citation is listed simply under “George Taylor,” and his name is given as George Taylor in A History of the United States Navy from 1755 to 1894 by Edgar Stanton McClay, which was published by D. Appleton and Company in 1894.

John Kennedy was born in County Cavan, Ireland, on May 14, 1834. He enlisted at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, for a five-year term in Battery M, Second U.S. Artillery, on December 16, 1857. It was on June 11, 1864, when Kennedy and four other artillerymen also serving in Brigadier General George Armstrong Custer’s cavalry division stood their ground at the Battle of Trevilian Station and defended their 12-pounder brass artillery piece against a Confederate cavalry charge.

According to a quote in the Encyclopedia of Arkansas, Kennedy later recounted the event: “With the ammunition gone, in the tussle, we used our pistols. When we emptied them, we took the sponge staves and handspikes and used them freely until overpowered, by them actually riding us down. I was fencing with the handspike with a calvaryman when another came in rear [sic] and knocked me down.”

General Custer led a charge which recaptured the gun, but not before Kennedy and Private Charles O’Neil were captured and taken to Andersonville Prison. Forty-four men in Battery M were killed or wounded in the battle. O’Neil would die at Andersonville; Kennedy would survive to continue his service in the 2nd Artillery until 1891, when as an ordinance sergeant, he would retire to Little Rock, Arkansas, with wife Margaret Kirker Woodlock, who he married in 1878, and their five children, including a son from Margaret’s first marriage.

Kennedy was nominated for a Medal of Honor twenty-eight years after the action at Trevilian Station, and was presented the medal on August 19, 1892. The simple citation reads that he: “remained at his gun, resisting with its implements the advancing cavalry, and thus secured the retreat of his detachment.” He died in Little Rock on September 28, 1910, and is buried in Willow Lot 298 of Oakland and Fraternal Cemetery in Little Rock, Arkansas. The USCIS Fort Smith Field Office is named in his honor.

CALLING ALL LOYAL BROTHERS –

THE 2021 NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT IS COMING TO ST. LOUIS!!

The following brothers have answered the call and purchased Loyalty Bonds, so far:

William Stuart English – Tiger Camp; Walt Busch – Grant Camp (3); Randel Baehr – Wilhelmi Camp; St James Camp 326; Alan Trodus – Fletcher Camp; Bob Petrovic – Grant Camp; Mark Coplin – Grant Camp (3); Robert Aubuchon – Grant Camp (2); Martin Aubuchon – Grant Camp; US Grant Camp 68 (5), Donald Palmer, Jr., John Palmer, General Thomas C Fletcher Camp 46 (5), Sumner Hunnewell -Dual Camps (5), Westport Camp (5), John Avery – Grant Camp, Gary Scheel- St James Camp, Randal Burd Jr -Fletcher Camp (5), Ed Krieser – Phelps Camp (5), Wilhelmi Camp (3), and Robert Amsler Jr.

Individual members and camps can support the encampment by sending in $20 for a loyalty bond. The issued bond entitles the named bond holder to claim twenty dollars back in 2022. In the meantime, the money has allowed the encampment committee to quickly buy items and enter contracts and hopefully collect more money so that we can continue to complete our task.

If you have any ideas, contacts to share with us, etc. Please contact Bob Petrovic, chairman of the committee, at rpetro7776@aol.com or Walt Busch, sec-treasurer of the committee at wbusch@suvchwmo.org. We will be having another major organizational meeting in the next few months and will be sending out an invite to all camps to send one member to the meeting. We hope all can participate and make this a truly department function.

Department Message

Among the proudest moments of my tenure as Department Commander occurred in June when we advanced the Allied Orders in Missouri. For our Department Encampment held in St. Clair on June 1st, we had Sister Dee Wolfe, President of the Missouri Department, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War (DUVCW) in attendance. She brought greetings and shared her efforts to foster relations among the Allied Orders. She reported on their fund raising efforts to place an historical marker to commemorate the 1916 GAR National Encampment held in Kansas City and as well as the efforts to publish a compendium about the GAR's Missouri history.

A week later, I reciprocated by attending the DUVCW Missouri Department Conference in Kansas City on June 8th. The SUVCW was one of three groups to bring greetings but we were the only Allied Order. Our Missouri sisters run an impressive conference with 47 attendees and representation from all five Missouri tents. I was jealous of their numbers and participation level.

As we do the Department and Camp's work this year, I'm asking that we look for opportunities to partner with the Allied Orders: DUVCW, ASUVCW, LGAR, and WRC. Some, like the DUVCW have a presence throughout Missouri; and others, like the LGAR only have local members-at-large.

I was blessed to be given a second term with the hope of progressing on my two initiatives. First, there are 1,523 recipients of the Medal of Honor from the American Civil War; 34 of them are buried in Missouri and 3 in Arkansas. I'm challenging the Department to identify, preserve, and commemorate the story and gravesite of each of these American heroes. If you or your camp can help contact MOH Coordinator Randal Burd, Jr.

Second, the Grand Army of the Republic held two national encampments in Missouri: the 21st National Encampment in St. Louis, September 28-30, 1887; and 50th National Encampment in Kansas City, August 28-September 2, 1916. I'm challenging the Department, to commemorate and mark the history of each encampment. The Kansas City marker is fully funded, now let's shift our attention to the St. Louis marker. If you can help contact Marty Aubuchon with Grant Camp.

In Fraternity, Charity, and Loyalty,

Dale Crandell

Commander Crandell bringing greetings to the sisters attending the DUVCW Missouri Department Conference.

Meet Your Commander

Dale Edward Crandell and his father John Edward Crandell joined the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil in 2010 to honor their ancestor, 1st Lieutenant Samuel Wesley Crandell who served in Company I, 6th Kentucky Cavalry. Their supplemental ancestors include Private Lewis Adkins of the 48th Iowa Infantry, Private William Gitt of the 166th Pennsylvania Infantry, and Private Mathew Leonard of the 32nd Missouri Infantry. Dale really is an SOB, having ancestors on both sides of the American Civil War and membership in the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

For the Union side, Dale is a member from Westport Camp #64 where he served as Camp Commander and Camp Secretary-Treasurer. He served the Department as a Council Member, Junior Vice Commander, and two terms as Senior Vice Commander, as well as being appointed ROTC Coordinator for four terms. He is an SVR member as a Private in the 1st Missouri Engineers and Corporal in the 1st Missouri State Militia. He is also a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, Society of the War of 1812, Military Order of the Loyal Legion in the United States, Society of the Descendants of the Colonial Clergy, and Crandall Family Association.

Dale is a Missouri native, growing up with three siblings in Mountain Grove, a place in the Ozarks that unless you know where it is you probably can't find it. He was a cub scout for a while, playing school football, church league softball, and believe-it-or-not math league competitions. Being in the heart of dairy country, of course he was hauling hay since before he could drive; and delivered furniture for the family business. Post-college, Lieutenant Crandell was commissioned through the ROTC program and served in the United States Navy, Civil Engineer Corps. He was stationed at Fleet Activities, Sasebo, Japan and Naval Security Group, Homestead, Florida where he had the unique experience of three typhoons-hurricanes, the last being Hurricane Andrew. Given Dale's dislike of coffee and the Navy's dislike of typhoons-hurricanes and people who dislike coffee, Dale was honorably discharged and released to the inactive naval reserves.

Dale is an engineer with the calculator and slide-rule to prove it. Working as a project and facility manager for Butler Manufacturing, Boatmen's Bank, and AT&T. He is currently an Associate Professor at the University of Kansas where he teaches project and financial management to School of Engineering graduate students. He started and is ending his professional career as a Jayhawk.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution and Regulations

General Order #7 dated 5 December 2018 reported that the 137th National Encampment of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War (SUVCW) approved an amendment to the Constitution and Regulations (C&R), Article V, Section 2(b) by removing “the last proceeding” from the first sentence:

Article V, Section 2b. If the Commander-in-Chief is of the opinion that an action of ~~the last proceeding~~ any National Encampment is in violation of or in conflict with our Congressional Charter, and/or the Constitution, and/or National Regulations, and/or United States Law, and/or any State’s Law, he may propose such General Order(s) to delay implementation of such action or suspend such action if previously implemented, until such time as the violation or conflict can be corrected. A two-thirds majority vote of the Council of Administration is required to support the proposed General Order authorizing the Commander-in-Chief to proceed, the Commander-in-Chief abstaining from participating in such vote and the Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief may only vote to break a tie. Such presentation and vote may be taken by electronic means of communication. The Commander-in-Chief must propose a resolution to the conflict by the next National Encampment.

For compliance with the C&R, Article IX, ratification of an amendment to the Constitution requires approval by 50% of the Departments. Accordingly, General Order #7 directs all Departments to vote to approve or reject the amendment at their 2019 Departments Encampments.

A vote by the Department of Missouri to approve or reject this proposed amendment is on the agenda for the 24th Encampment of the Department of Missouri on 1 June 2019 at St. Clair, Missouri. Members and Camps are encouraged to review the proposed amendment and provide guidance to their delegates.

Memorial Day Observance

General John Logan, while serving as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR) issued General Order #11 on May 5, 1868 establishing Decoration Day, which we now call Memorial Day. His charge was that we commemorate at the gravesite of fallen soldiers, sailors, and marines:

Let us, then, at the time appointed gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of spring-time; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude, the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

As the descendants and lawful heirs of the GAR, each of us pledged during our membership induction to always observe the day set aside as Memorial Day, sacred to the memory of the Union Soldiers and Sailors. Whether commemorating the observed Memorial Day on Monday, May 27th or traditional Memorial Day on Thursday, May 30th, or both, Camps and members of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War throughout Missouri and Arkansas are asked to take time to participate in Memorial Day services honoring our fallen veterans of all eras but especially those Civil War veterans.

----- From the 2019 Department Encampment

Minutes to the meeting have not been made yet, so I don't have the records to announce a lot to you. They should be ready by the next newsletter. We had Sister Dee Wolfe, President of the Missouri Department, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War (DUVCW) and Commander-in-Chief Donald Shaw of the Sons of Union Veterans in attendance.

We didn't have a lot of awards issued this year. Past Commander-in-Chief Ed Krieser, now of Phelps Camp, was given the Frank Blair Jr Award for Outstanding Member. Mark Christ of Arkansas Historic Preservation is to receive the Wayne Sampson Show-Me Award for a non-member doing the most to help keep the memory of the soldiers and GAR fresh in the memory of Americans. His has done a lot in Arkansas including getting all the GAR monuments there on the National Register. Finally, the Fletcher Camp and Grant Camp received Eads Awards for Outstanding Camps.

The following are some pictures from the event.

Civil War Trivia

The King Of Siam Offered War Elephants To Lincoln

Before the war, King Rama IV of Siam found out that the US did not have elephants. This, King Rama IV felt, was a tragedy and one that needed to be righted as soon as possible. When the Civil War began, Rama IV jumped on the opportunity. He wrote to Abraham Lincoln, offering to send him as many war elephants as he required. These, King Rama IV explained, would not only help him crush the Confederates but could also be put to work on construction projects or just set loose in the forests. Lincoln did his best to be polite. "I appreciate most highly Your Majesty's tender of good offices," he wrote back. "Our political jurisdiction, however, does not reach a latitude so low as to favor the multiplication of the elephant." It's easy to imagine, though, that a few years further in, Lincoln was probably regretting not putting a few war elephants on the front lines.

New Rules at National Cemeteries

Grant Camp Secretary Walt Busch wants to caution all camps who may be holding events at National Cemeteries in the future. Jefferson Barracks and apparently other VA cemeteries are using a new form to approve events. The form requires your camp to accept responsibility for the use of musket or cannon salutes, provide an agenda, and also provide a list of all speakers you are planning to use and what organization they are representing.

Memorial Day at Jefferson Barracks

US Grant Camp once again led the Civil War ceremonies at one of the largest VA cemeteries on Memorial Day. They were assisted by the Turner Brigade Company M Artillery, members of the Turner Brigade infantry units and members of other SUVCW camps. The ceremonies use to be shared with Sherman Camp and the camps alternated years they led the event, but since the closure of that camp, Grant Camp has led the event for the past several years.

All the groups regularly assist at the ceremonies for all US veterans prior to holding their own ceremonies for Civil War soldiers in the Civil War section of the cemetery.

Several pictures follow of the Civil War ceremony. The picture to the left is of Grant Camp Commander Robert Amsler, Jr. as he presents a poppy at the remembrance wreath in the ceremonies honoring all US Veterans.

May 8th, We were honored to be asked again this year to give a Civil War presentation to the Ste Genevieve Middle School 7th Graders.

We had seven different stations for the nearly one hundred and forty students to go through.

Station 1-Private Bob Mueller gave explained to them the camp scene of a Civil War soldier.

Station 2- (Next Page)Privates Jerry Kasten and Paul Kist explained the loading and firing of the cannon. Students from each group were selected to demonstrate the different positions of men who would have been on a cannon crew,

At the end of the day all of the students were seated as we prepared to fire the cannon. Private Jerry Kasten who built the cannon always enjoys firing the cannon for the students. We fired around four different rounds for them. This is always the highlight of the day for the students. If they do not remember anything else they always remember the end of the day.

Station Number Three was under the command of Corporal Ed Millinger who demonstrated the loading of a musket by Nine Times and firing of the weapon.

Station Number Four was manned by 1st Sergeant Gary Scheel and Private William Zoughaib. The students were given basic manual of arms and loading by nine times. They were taught how to fired by volley and advance and fire.

Private William Zoughaib teaching the → students how to present arm.

Station Number Five, was a new one for this year. We were priviledged to have present a band playing period correct music. This is the first time that they had performed this music. They are left to right, Jill Kenik [Piccolo], Becky Millinger [Guitar], Marcia Schaefer [Guitar] and John Weakly [Banjo, guitar and mandolin] It was fun to watch some of the students try to dance to the music.

Station Number Six, was spinning and Women's life during the Civil War. She is surrounded by students but Deb Cambren is always gracious enough to take time out of her busy schedule and work to attend this.

We appreciate you Deb.

Station Number 7 was the display of equipment of a soldier that he might carry in his knapsack. This station was conducted by Corporal Tom Greminger.

May 27th- MEMORIAL DAY

At 11 a.m. Gary Scheel attended the Memorial Day service at the VFW Hall to pay honor to those who gave their all.

At 12 noon we gathered at the Memorial Cemetery in Ste. Genevieve and honored those who had served in the Civil War and gave their all. Camp Commander Ed Millinger presented the program to honor these soldiers of the Civil War. Gary Scheel acted as Chaplain. There are four members of the Union Army who are buried in the cemetery.

We were honored to have members of Company J, 78th Enrolled Missouri Militia to assist us in this ceremony.

Welcome New Members

Brother Arleigh Daniel Martin was mustered into Westport Camp #64 at our camp meeting on 3 April 2019. He joins to honor of his ancestor Corporal Isaac Jones who served in Company F, 115th Illinois Infantry Regiment. The 115th Illinois was organized at Camp Butler and assigned to the Army of Kentucky and later the Army of Cumberland, which led to its participation in numerous engagements including Siege of Atlanta, Battle of Franklin, and Battle of Nashville. The regiment mustered-out at the end of the war and the soldiers were discharged where they started three years earlier at Camp Butler.

Brother David Michael Martin was mustered into Westport Camp #64 at our camp meeting on 1 May 2019. He joins to honor of his ancestor Private William Brumfield who served in Company D, 43rd Missouri Infantry Regiment. The 43rd Missouri was organized in St. Joseph and patrolled throughout northwest Missouri with engagements at Booneville, Glasgow, Little Blue River, and Lexington.

The 79th Conference of the Central Region, Allied Orders

Location to be determined

Mark your calendars for October 2-3, 2020

The Central Region – Allied Orders of the Grand Army meets once a year. At the meetings, the group usually has a historical presentation (and tour) along with a presentation designed to improve a member's skills within the Allied Orders, of which the SUCVW is a part. A very short business meeting follows. This group has been in existence since 1940 and carries on the tradition of regional meetings of all the groups. The Central Region and the Northeast Region are the only two still in existence!

Grand Army of the Republic Group Forming

Members of the U. S. Grant Camp #68 are inviting people interested in spreading the word about the history of the Grand Army of the Republic. Expectations would be that members would dress in G. A. R. garb and be available for various functions inside and outside of the SUVCW. Since this is not an SVR unit, SUVCW members and other re-enactors are welcomed to participate.

Interested parties should contact Marty Aubuchon or John Avery, who are spearheading the effort. Below are the forms passed out at a recent Grant Camp meeting.

THE 6TH ANNUAL

U.S. GRANT SYMPOSIUM

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI AUGUST 9, 2019

Presented by the Missouri Humanities Council in collaboration with the U. S. Grant Trail

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 2019 AT SOLDIERS MEMORIAL
 LOCATED AT 1315 CHESTNUT STREET IN DOWNTOWN ST. LOUIS

- 9:45 a.m. Welcoming Remarks by Mark Sundlov, Director, Soldiers Memorial Military Museum
- 10:00 a.m. Pam Sanfilippo, Learning & Engagement Director, Dwight D. Eisenhower Presidential Library, Museum and Boyhood Home / Julia Dent Grant and the Importance of Family
 to 10:50 a.m. Importance of Family
Synopsis: Pam, formerly Historian at the Ulysses S. Grant National Historic Site in St. Louis, dispels some myths and sheds light on Julia Grant's personality. Viewed through the lens of the importance of family, Julia Grant emerges as a woman both of and ahead of her time.
- 11:00 a.m. "Standing on the Promises: James Milton Turner and the Promise of America"
 to
 11:50 a.m. Written and performed by Gregory Carr, Instructor of Speech and Theater at Harris Stowe State University in St. Louis.
Synopsis: An accomplished playwright, director and actor, Greg brings his portrayal of educator and diplomat James Milton Turner to the Symposium stage. Turner, appointed by President Grant to the post of Minister to Liberia, was one of the most effective African-American leaders in post-Civil War Missouri.

— LUNCH AND MUSEUM BREAK —

Lunch is available at many locations within walking distance of the venue. Visit the exhibits at the recently (and magnificently) restored Soldiers Memorial Military Museum

~THE KEYNOTE ADDRESS~

- 1:15 p.m. Timothy B. Smith, PhD, Author and Lecturer, University of Tennessee at
 to
 2:10 p.m. Martin / The Military Education of Ulysses S. Grant
Synopsis: Tim Smith is a prolific writer, whose published works include the winner of the 2017 Douglas Southall Freeman History Award for Southern history: Grant Invades Tennessee: The 1862 Battles for Forts Henry and Donelson. Tim takes the listener through a catalogue of lessons learned by Grant during his four years in the Civil War, likening his education in the field to the years of a typical college education.
- 2:15 p.m. James W. Erwin, Author and President, Civil War Round Table of St. Louis /
 to
 3:00 p.m. Suppressing the Rebellion: Missouri State Militia and Missouri Enrolled Militia
Synopsis: Jim explores the guerrilla war that dominated Missouri in 1863 and 1864, and the Militia units that were developed to combat Confederate partisans and others. Jim is the author of a series of books with Civil War themes, including Guerrillas in Civil War Missouri (Arcadia Publishing, 2012)

AD / SWAP SECTION

All camps are entitled to up to one page of advertising per issue. Raffles Permitted!

[NONE OF THE ITEMS ARE ACTUAL SIZE ON THIS PAGE]

New Camp Raffle Item Procured

At the end of September and at the behest of the Camp, Brothers Alexander, Roussin, and Trodus purchased a cement statue representing a soldier, who was on the wrong side of the Rebellion. It is about 30 inches tall and weights some 40 pounds! A movable crate was created to heft it around.

It will be raffled off by members of our Camp throughout the year. Per tradition, a name will be drawn after the Veterans' Day parade in De Soto.

1 ticket for $3

2 tickets for $5

5 tickets for $10

See Brother Trodus at Camp meetings or any Camp member when we are on the road attending various events.

Raffle Rules

- Sumner Hunnewell will run the raffle and he (or his proxy) will sell the tickets.
- All proceeds will go to and be at the discretion of the Department.
- Make checks out to "SUVCW Missouri" and send to Sumner Hunnewell, 2030 San Pedro Dr., Arnold, MO 63010.
- A list of available items will be provided.
- The last day of ticket sales and the drawing of the first ticket will be at the 2019 Department Encampment.
- For every $25 of tickets purchased, one ticket will be drawn.
 - The owner of the first ticket drawn would get the choice of one item on the list and would have five days to decide. After the decision, the owner of the second ticket drawn would get a choice of the remaining items and would have five days to decide, and so on.
 - If the owner does not choose within five days, he will still have the opportunity to choose from any remaining items.
- Items will be added to the list and the list will be distributed to Camp Commanders and Secretaries.
- Other brothers are welcome to donate items.
- Items must be collected within one year at a Camp Meeting, Department Business Meeting or Department Encampment.
- If the item must be mailed, the cost of mailing will be borne by the winner.
- Any item not collected by the 2020 Department Encampment will be considered abandoned and the winner will have no further recourse to collect.
- To avoid any state law problems – Raffle tickets will only be sold to members of the Missouri SUVCW or Missouri residents if such sales were generated from the items being advertised on the internet.
