Brief History of the G.A.R. Post (use separate document if necessary):

Missouri's first post was organized in Kirksville, October 1, 1866, and was named for Corporal Hervey Dix, the first Union soldier to be killed in Adair County. Later described by GAR historian Robert R. Beath as "one of the most efficient Posts in the interior of the state", it lasted only a couple of years before becoming the victim of internal political strife. When reorganized in 1882, it was designated Post No 22 by the Department of Missouri which had been fully organized by twenty-one other posts during its hiatus. With only a few elderly members still living, the Post voted to disband in the Spring of 1934. The records, including membership applications, were given to the library at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College (now Truman State University) along with some documents from the local chapters of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans.

Kirksville.-- When the war closed there was a wide-spread desire to perpetuate the bonds of friendship and brotherly love which had been formed by comrades in arms. This desire gave rise to several organizations. Among these was the Union Soldiers' League. A league was partially formed in Kirksville in September, 1866, and Sergt. S.W. Williams was appointed to confer with the Secretary of State League. Capt. F.M. Shelton, Asst. Surgeon A. Douglas, Capt. E.O. Gates, H.G. Kernodle, D.S. Hooper, and S.W. Williams were the leaders in this movement.

The Union Soldiers' League, however, did not prosper. The Grand Army of the Republic proved to be the organization that enlisted the interest and support of the greatest number of Federal soldiers. The first post was organized at Decatur, Illinois in 1866.

Corporal Dix Post, No. 1, Department of Missouri, G.A.R., was organized in 1866 or early in 1867, and was the first post organized in the state and is said to have been the first west of the Mississippi River. Dr. R.H. Browne and J.A. Gormly were among those instrumental in bringing about the organization of the post. The post lived but a short time, owing to the fact that politics got into it, as was the case with the organization nationally. By 1869 it was dead. The only surviving members of the original post, as far as is known, are Joseph D. Miller, now of Topeka, Kansas ; Edward Ammerman of Lenore, California; and George F. Williams of Kirksville.

The post was named after Corporal Harvey Dix, of Company D, Third Iowa Infantry, who was killed in an engagement northeast of Kirksville on August 19, 1861. He was the first Union soldier to be killed within the limits of Adair County. An account of this event has already been given. The credit of suggesting this name for the post is said to belong to Joseph D. Miller, who was later sheriff of the county.

In 1882 the post was revived and mustered by Nat M. Gwynne, Assistant Adjutant General of the Missouri Department, with the following charter members: R.H. Browne, John Burton, W.J. Ashlock, J.H. Kinnear, J.W. Tinsman, G.F. Williams, R.G. Bielby, B. F. Heiny, John Shaver, J.A. Tinsman, Sanford Snyder, and A.D. Risdon. By this time twenty one other posts had been organized in the state, so that the post number was now 22. The old name was retained.

The records show than an enrollment of 341 has been attained since the organization. But many of them have died, others moved away, and some dropped, so that at the present time there are only 72 members. The attendance at the meetings, however, is only about fifteen.

The post meets the first and third Thursdays of each month in the Grand Jury room, the use of which the county court has given to it without charge. A few war relics have been placed in this room, and it is hoped to add to these so that a good museum may be formed.

The Post has always observed Memorial Day, and has not only decorated the graves of old Federal soldiers, but for many years it has also decorated the graves of the Confederates who were buried in cemetery after the battle of Kirksville.

A few years ago a monument was erected over this grave, and active assistance was rendered by the Post in securing the funds for this purpose.

The cannon standing at the northeast corner of the court house square was placed there a year or two ago by the Post.

The Eighteenth Annual Encampment of the G.A.R. of Missouri was held in Kirksville May 11-12, 1899

1899, and contains the names of the following charter members: Fred N. Chapman, E. T. Brewington, V. H. Greenwood, G. M. Laughlin, F. C. Miller, E. H. Bestman, C. B. Matthews, M. J. Maxwell, C. W. Adams, H. H. Straight, C. A. Hamilton, W. T. Stephenson, and Wm. Smith. This lodge has been particularly prosperous in the last few years. It erected a handsome club house on the corner of Elson and Jefferson streets in 1910, the formal opening of which took place on January 3, 1911. The cost of this building was about $30,000. The first floor is given up to reception rooms, gaming rooms and the like; on the second floor are the offices and an immense lodge room which is arranged in a very artistic fashion. The charity work of this lodge is very extensive. For some years it has fixed up a Christmas tree in its rooms for the poor children of the town and thus gladdened the hearts of many of them by their generosity and sympathetic treatment.

Two of the members of this lodge are life members; they are F. N. Chapman and J. F. Eckert. Rev. Chapman was Grand Chaplain of the national organization one year.

E.—A. O. U. W.

KIRKSVILLE.—Milton Lodge, No. 103, A. O. U. W., was chartered February 1, 1879. Later the uniform rank of Select Knights was organized also. The order was a fraternal order, but it put special emphasis upon its benevolent insurance system. For some cause or other the insurance assessments began to be increased about fifteen years, and continued to go up more and more. The result was many members withdrew. The lodge in Kirksville has been defunct for five years or more.

Besides the A. O. U. W. there have been several other benevolent fraternal organizations represented in Kirksville. Among them were the Knights of Honor and the Knights of Maccabees. The former is known to have existed in 1882, and the latter in 1892, but as to how long they lasted and what they did, nothing further can be said.

The cannon standing at the northeast corner of the court house square was placed there a year or two ago by the Post.

The Eighteenth Annual Encampment of the G. A. R. of Missouri was held in Kirksville May 11-12, 1899.

BRASHEAR.—The Sergeant Ryan Post at Brashear was chartered October 6, 1884. The charter members were: M. A. Church, B. F. Hall, J. N. McCreary, J. S. McIntyre, B. W. Church, D. Y. Conkle, J. Z. Smith, W. H. Steele, W. H. Dunham, J. Hartsock, B. Pierce, D. Tuttle, J. F. Wise, J. Norris, and R. U. White. Exactly one hundred different names have been enrolled, but the present active membership is only seventeen.

Besides these posts at Kirksville and Brashear there have been three others at least: the Jas. A. Smith Post at Millard; the A. D. Hickman Post at Shibley's Point; and the Post at Sublette. No information concerning their organization or subsequent history has been secured, except that the post at Sublette was disbanded some years ago, and the membership was merged in the post at Kirksville.

Inasmuch as the G. A. R. was responsible for some of the County Soldiers' Reunions held in this county, it may be appropriate to give a brief account of them here.

For years county soldiers' reunions were held annually late in the summer; most of them were held in Kirksville. These reunions would include processions, camp fires, a good deal of speaking, and various kinds of amusements. The earliest reunion of which there is any record was held in 1868. An immense crowd attended. The chief event of the reunion was a sham battle in which many of the maneuverers of August 6, 1862 were reenacted. Major John A. Pickler superintended the battle. There was a good deal of political speaking both morning and afternoon. Among the speakers were Major Clements of Macon, Major Glaze of Macon, State Supt. T. A. Parker, and Major Williams. It seems that the political coloring given to this celebration made it unpopular, so that soldiers' reunions were not held any more for a long time. At least there is no mention of any in the newspapers until 1880.

Soldiers' Reunions seem to have been held annually during the eighties, but no one ever surpassed the one held in 1880. Moreover, complaints began to be made against the management; it was said that questionable side shows were permitted and that the accommodations were not adequate. Moreover, it cost a great deal of money to provide for the entertainment of the crowds that attended, and the cost fell pretty heavily upon the same men from year to year. For these reasons the reunions seem to have been discontinued after 1889.

The one held in 1885 was marked by the organization of an association of the survivors of the Twenty-Seventh Missouri Infantry and another for the Tenth Missouri Infantry. J. E. Pierce was President and J. H. Novington, Secretary of the first; G. D. Gray was President of the second.

By 1880 something of the bitterness of feeling which the war had produced, began to wear away, and it was felt safe and desirable to hold a big reunion of the old soldiers. Extensive preparations were made for the event. They seem to have begun with the organization of an association of the survivors of the Seventh Missouri Cavalry who lived in Adair County. This was done in December, 1879. S. M. Crawford was made President of this organization and T. J. Dockery, Secretary. Companies C, F, G, H, I and M were represented by the members. The following April a Union Veterans Association was formed at Kirksville and committees were appointed to arrange for the reunion. A camp ground was laid out along the northwestern edge of the town, and hundreds of tents pitched there for the accommodation of the old soldiers.

The crowning feature of the reunion was the sham battle. Supplies from the government were secured, so that the men engaged in it had uniforms, arms, and other equipment very much as in real army life.

In 1889 a movement was started to form an association of the survivors of the Thirty-Ninth Missouri Infantry. It was occasioned by the accidental meeting one day of eight of the survivors in front of the court room. These eight were Otis Miller, Egbert Polley, John Broadley, Jerome B. Greenslate, Thos. J. Spencer, Valentine Judd, John Calvin, and W. B. Deaton. A call was made for all the survivors to meet for organization, but it is not known what became of the matter.

SONS OF VETERANS—A chapter of the Sons of Veterans was organized here several years ago, and after it lapsed it was reorganized, but as yet enough interest has not been manifested to keep it going.

B.—Women's Orders.

W. R. C.—The Woman's Relief Corps of Kirksville was organized on April 30, 1885, with sixty-six charter members. The first President was Mrs. Julia E. Dockery, and the first Secretary was Mrs. Mary Sparring. The membership reached the ninety mark at one time.

U. D. C.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy of Kirksville effected an organization on August 8, 1891. Mrs. B. P. Gentry was the first President. The society did not flourish, as there were very few who were eligible who would take an interest in it.

D. A. R.—The Ann Haynes Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Kirksville was organized on February 9, 1907. The charter members were Minnie Brashear, Roma Brashear, Mrs. Edith Campbell, Mrs. Adah Caskey Cockrell, Mrs. Ruby Bowen Cooley, Mrs. Louisa Taylor Gerdine, Mrs. Sarah Trowbridge Hall, Mrs. Katherine Harrington Swaney, Mrs. Blanche Still Laughlin, Mrs. Flora M. Mason, Mrs. Charlotte O'Neill, Clara O'Neill, Clara Brown Spencer, Mrs. Quintilla Haynes Ringo, Alethea Ringo, Mrs. Eugenia Ringo Moorman, Mrs. Ethel Ringo Weatherly.

The duties of this chapter include an annual visit to the graves of the two Revolutionary soldiers buried in Adair County, at which time these graves are cleaned and decorated with flags and flowers; the preservation of historical relics and the location of places connected with the early history of Missouri and Adair County; the encouragement of patriotic education among the school children of the county; and the study of American history in detail by the members.

Patriotic education among the school children is encouraged through offering annually a prize to any school other than the high school at Kirksville, for the best essay on some historical subject selected by a committee of the chapter, and also through teaching them to salute the flag and to arise when the national hymn is being sung.

GRAVES OF REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS BURIED IN ADAIR COUNTY.

JAMES FLETCHER

1755-1845

Buried on the old Amsbaugh farm.

THOMAS LAY

1755 (?) - 1845

Buried in Cain-Collett Cemetery

The two Revolutionary soldiers buried in the county are James Fletcher and Thomas Lay. The record of service of Fletcher is as follows: Private in Fourth Troop commanded by Capt. Wm. Parsons, First Regiment Light Dragoons, Continental Troops; name appears on pay-roll of the Company for January, 1783; was taken prisoner at one time. He was born April 29, 1758 and died in Adair County September 27, 1845, and was buried on the old Amsbaugh farm not far from the lower iron bridge, eleven miles southwest of Kirksville. He had come to Missouri in 1830.

The record of Thomas Lay is not known, but there seems to be no doubt that he was a Revolutionary soldier. He died about 1845 and
