LOCAL BREVITIES.

Garden truck is booming.

What's the matter o' putting a clock in the Academy of Music tower?

The school board will choose a teacher for the colored school to-day.

What so fruitful of colds as a wintry day in May? And—thank goodness!—what so rare?

Judge Clark went down the road Monday, to see after his lumber interests and other matters.

Ironton has but two barber shops now, Harry Chapman having sold out and gone to Kansas.

Wm. H. Thomson's Valley Home was filled last week with a delegation of young people from the city. Perhaps they didn't have a good time!

The weather Sunday and Monday called for overcoats, and the men who didn't do the same paid for their lack of judgment to sub. purpose subsequently.

A. Roebry, Esq., went to Texas last week, to see the country and visit his brother-in-law, who is a resident of Dallas. He will probably return in a few days.

The mass meeting last Saturday was largely attended, and the work for which it was called was dispatched decently and in order, and with business-like celerity.

Judge G. A. Koerner and wife, of Belleville, Ill., are guests at Hotel Peck. They have about concluded negotiations for the Metcalfe house for the summer.

Judge Russell wants the county court to put up seats in the courthouse yard, and to otherwise make it a comfortable and popular place for resort. Read his suggestions.

Thanks to H. Davis, Esq., for a mess of catfish stakes last week. They were very fine and fresh, and enjoyed accordingly. Mr. D., we believe, sells fish on Thursday each week.

Prof. Vance took a trip down into Ripley and Carter counties last week. He returned Monday, and is enthusiastic over the timber resources and outcome of that section of the Southeast.

It is said that a large deposit of iron ore has been developed in the West End of the county. A correspondent in that section prom-

According to McGrath's Missouri Directory, the lower house last legislature was composed of 56 farmers, 39 lawyers, 15 merchants, 12 physicians, six mechanics, four editors, two preachers, one hotel keeper, one manufacturer, one book-keeper, one miller, and one real estate dealer. The senate was composed of 23 lawyers, five farmers, two merchants, one engineer, one manufacturer, one mechanic and one hotel keeper.

Hotel Peck has added the row of cottages immediately south and adjoining the hotel, which are fitted up nicely, enabling them to entertain large parties, and especially adapted for the comfort of summer boarders. The prospects now are that they will have demand for much more room. All the buildings are being repainted and generally undergoing the needed repairs. We hear the house favorably spoken of by all its patrons.

Some fifty pupils of the Toensfeldt Educational Institute, of St. Louis, came to Ironton Friday evening on the Accommodation, and remained until Sunday afternoon. While here they went out to the base ball grounds and a game was made up between a school nine and some Irontonians. Five innings were all they had time to play, when the score stood 20 to 13 in favor of the latter. The boys apparently enjoyed themselves while here, and we hope went back to their books reinvigorated.

Missrs. Frizzell and Simpson, the cured meat connoisseurs, last Monday, when arraigned before Judge Dinger, plead guilty to grand larceny. The Judge asked a bond for $500 for their appearance at circuit court, and, as they were unable to put up, they were shut up in the county Bastille, where they will remain until Justice's laden heel comes shuffling along. We fear they may learn that while that female isn't a high-kicker, she is a heavy stepper. No slight bare-bell raises its head after her solid tread.

About fifty student and professors of the Toensfeldt Educational Institute, of St. Louis, were at Hotel Peck for two days during the last week, and visited all the places of interest around Ironton and Pilot Knob, returning Sunday highly pleased with their trip and treatment while here. The professors deserve great credit for the perfect discipline of the school, which numbers about 300 pupils, and is considered one of the best educational institutes in the State. Our young friend, Wm. Schwab, graduated at this institute, and Willie Haller will soon finish his course there.

Zion's Hill last Monday was the scene of a colored feminine "sérap" totally at variance with the peaceful, sacred character of the locality's pseudonym. The boys have a saying that "two on one is niggers' fun," and according to that proverb there must have been a wagon-load of the article on hand on this occasion. Two of the females joined forces and the third experienced a verification of Napoleon's maxim that "Providence is always on the side of the heaviest battalions." The vanquished fled to Judge Dinger's redress, but when he wanted to rule all parties to give bond for costs, they thought better of it, and concluded to not call in the avenging arm of the law.

The Novelist, Allen's new weekly Magazine, which is devoted entirely to American fiction, is a remarkably attractive and popular enterprise. Every reader interested in high-class fiction should send to the publisher for a free specimen copy. The first completed story is Robert Timson's, "A Pessimist," an uncommonly bright, readable story, making about 200 pages, which is sold in paper for 15 cents, or in cloth, 30 cents, post-paid. It would not be easy to name a novel in which the conversation has so much wit, humor and clever badinage, sustained members. Fifty applications were presented and voted on. When the application of Wm. C. Love was presented, there was loud applause, as he is the oldest Democrat in this section of Missouri. The number of new members chosen was fifty, making a total membership of one hundred and four. On motion, Club adjourned to meet next Saturday, May 19, at two o'clock P. M.

Our Academy of Music being a source of pride to every citizen of the Valley, we take pleasure in giving to the world a true picture of the building, that all may see it as it is:

The G. A. R. Social and Ball was a complete success, as to numbers, for the opera house was filled to overflowing. It was the biggest gathering ever held in the Academy. It had been the intention to have the fore part of the affair as a musical entertainment. A good piano and organ had been provided and an excellent string band, and the Ironton brass band. A number of our most estimable young ladies had been invited to sing or play, and they promised to, but some of them, from unavoidable cause, no doubt, failed to appear. But it is due and creditable to Misses Anna R. Newman, Carrie Davis, Georgie Muffy, Addie Pettit, Naomi Goulding, Lulu Fairchild and Mrs. F. P. Adams, that they were present and favored the large and mixed audience with some excellent songs and instrumental music. The audience was mixed, for it was composed of old and young, of both sexes, from the 3-year "kid" to the old man and woman of 75. The ball was a success and will long be remembered by those who took part in it. The string band, under the management of Mr. Joseph Henson and Alfred Henson, furnished the excellent music for the dancers. The Ironton Boys Cornet Band furnished the old soldiers and the crowd gathered with their good music. Everything passed off peacefully and quietly, as it should be at such places. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Peck, of Hotel Peck, furnished the supper for the ball. While there might have been better management for the first part of the affair, the G. A. R. members say that on next 10th of May they will leave no room for complaint, as experience is a good school and they hope to have things in better shape. The members return thanks to our enterprising business firm of Baldwin Bros. for the donation of a Post flag pole, which they put on Post headquarters.

Arrivals at Hotel Peck for the week ending May 14th: Joe A. Curry, Cairo, Ill.; E. M. Montgomery, Arcadia, Mo.; J. A. Benson, Annapolis, Md.; J. W. Clarkson, Arcadia, Mo.; Jos. Houser, U. S. the dump, hence the several men at the foot of the hill loading cars pay no attention to the running of the cars.

But on Monday morning as the two cars (coupled together as they were) going down the hill, by some means became uncoupled. The cable was holding the second car, but the first car, after broken loose, dashed down the hill at a rate. Whittenberg was standing at switch when he discovered that the first had broken loose and was coming at a lightning speed. He jumped to get out of the way, but so rapid was the car's travel that it struck him, killing him instantly. Just on the apron of the dump Wm. Bennett was shoveling ore, when the car came thundering through the shed and struck him on the head and neck, leaving a mangled corpse.

Several others at work had a very narrow escape. It is reported, that just a few minutes before the accident the foreman came around and transferred four men from spot where Bennett was killed to another part of the dump. Several outside of the shed also came near being run over by the runaway car. When the car went over the dump the ore was thrown in every direction. Pieces, each one weighing at least 800 pounds, were thrown entirely across public road opposite the dump.

The bodies of the unfortunate men were properly cared for. All work was immediately suspended. Esquire Schwanner is an inquest. The jury returned a verdict clearing the St. Louis Ore and Steel Company from all blame, claiming that it was an unavoidable accident.

William Bennett was the only support his widowed mother, while the colored man was also the only support of his aged mother. It was just about four years ago, when William Bennett's father was killed in the mine at Pilot Knob. He was also killed by a runaway car. The bereaved friends and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

Democratic Mass Meeting.

In pursuance to the call of the chairmen of the Democratic County Central Committee, there was a mass meeting of the Iron County Democracy at the courthouse Ironton, Saturday, May 12, at two o'clock P. M. The meeting was called to order by D. Ake, who explained that the object of the gathering was to select three delegates to the Democratic State Delegate Convention to be held at Sedalia, May 17, 1888. W. Ryan was chosen chairman and Mann Ringo secretary. The following nominations for delegates were made: E. M. Logan, Belleville; W. H. Byers, of Ironton, and M. Morris, of Des Arc. On motion, the nominees were unanimously elected by acclamation. The alternates chosen are Matthews, of Belleville; J. G. Clarkson, Arcadia, and Harry Hart, of Annapolis. On motion, the meeting adjourned.

MANN RINGO, W. A. RYAN,
 Secretary. Chairman.

Confederate Reunion.

DES ARC, Mo., May 19, 1890.

I notice from the papers that the u. rell- ing of the statue of Gen. R. E. Lee takes place on the 29th of June at Richmond, Va. This will be a grand gathering of Confederate soldiers. There are expected 25,000 men to form in line on that day—one-fourth of the army that Gen. Lee commanded during the battles in Virginia. Every Confederate soldier is invited to attend, rations free, and half rate, or $20 and return, from St. Louis. Each officer and soldier will be assigned to his old company, regiment and brigade. All the old battle-flags that they carried through those hotly contested battlefields will be un- folded, with their shattered fragments or bullet-hole marks—as also will be carried the stars and stripes. What a pleasure it must be for old comrades to meet once more and how sad it will be to find so many miss- ing from being killed during the different battles and dying since that time. As to myself, I know I could not enjoy anything better than to form in line with my old Co. 1, 5th Reg't Va. Cavalry, under Col. T. L. Rosser, who commanded it once, and was its fifth colonel—the others being killed in battle. And I know it would please Judge J. G. Clarkson to answer to roll-call of his old sergeant in Co. K, 2d Reg't Va. Calva- ry, under Col. Munford (Fritz Hugg Lee's brigade), who will be there to take command of his old regiment; and nothing would please J. M. Morris better than meet his old Co. B, 44 Va. Infantry (Stonewall brigade.) It was in this command he received a min- nie ball in his shoulder, which he carries to this day. Also, R. A. Clarkson of the 4th Va. Cavalry, and also J. W. Bowles of 19 Reg't Pickett's famous command. Boys, we ought to be there and commune with the heroes of the Lost Cause once more. ISAAC.

Obituary.

Orrin, son of James and Sarah J. Wilson, was born in Reynolds county, Mo., Septem- ber 17, 1867; died May 4th, 1890, at Gloyer, Iron county, Mo., after a long and painful illness of lung disease. Was buried at Les- terville, Mo. Orrin was an unusually bright and gay young man, and loved by old and young; was a dear lover of his father and mother, brothers and sister. He leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his early departure. Orrin had never made any public profession of religion, but, before he passed away, he called on his friends that stood around his dying bed to pray with him. He requested them to sing, "I long for a home with my Savior." He was at- tended on by the most prominent physicians, but of no avail. When all else failed, he called on a higher power and told his moth- er he did long for a home with his Savior. A friend said, "Orrin, are you any better satisfied to die?" He said, "Yes?" and took his father and mother by the hand and pass- ed away. Yes, dear Orrin, we hope to meet you in a home with a Savior, where parting is no more, for God's Word says: "He that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

Memorial Day!

The Strewing of the Flowers or the Festival of the Dead.

HDQRS. IRON POST, No. 346, G. A. R.
DEPT. MISSOURI,
IRONTON, Mo., May 21, 1890.

Each year, on the 30th day of May, it is the custom of the mem- bers of the Grand Army of the Republic to pay a tribute of memory and respect to the dead who serv- ed in the Un- ion Army dur- ing the war of the Rebellion. Each Grand Army Post—be it in the crowd- ed city or in the village, it is all the same to them—quietly repair to the cemeteries or the graves, and there, under the forms and rules of the or- der, have such ceremonies as is deem- ed proper.

All patriotic citizens are invited to join with them on these occasions, and make it a "Flower Day" once a year, to visit the graves of all rela- tives and friends, and mingle togeth- er at the shrine of the departed, in friendship, charity and loyalty.

The ceremony of Iron Post will take place at the Ironton Cemetery, just east of town, at 3 o'clock P. M. Friday, May 30 1890. Flowers left at G. A. R. Hall will be taken charge of and carried to the cemetery. The G. A. R. Hall will be open by 9 o'clock, A. M. A number of comrades and friends will, in the forenoon, visit the Pilot Knob cemetery and have serv- ices there at 10:30 A. M., and then re- turn to Ironton. The Post Hall will be open all day, and all friends are invited to visit it. The respective committees will give attention to the duties assigned them. All members of the order are requested to be in uniform, as far as circumstances will admit. The G. A. R. members and the Sons of Veterans will have the hall at 2 P. M. for the cemetery.

A number of ladies have been spe- cially invited and have consented to be present at the cemetery and conduct the singing. Two young ladies have been invited, and they have con- sented, to recite appropriate selections for the occasion. A. R. ELLIOTT,
C. R. PECK,
Post Commander.
Post Adj't.

Walter –

The old Academy of Music would have been located at – what today is 106 N Main in Ironton. It was on the east side of Main street a block & ½ south of the old IOOF Bldg. (Emily Parker’s Music Academy).

If you can recall, there was an old decrepit granite building used by “Valley Auto Parts” and it was next door to the Fire Station –Police. It was the site of the original Academy of Music – which burned 1923 – replaced by granite building mentioned above – and it served as the movie theater until 1969. Dave Mayes ran it during the summer – I can recall him telling me.

The building is currently used for storage.
